THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Preparing for a Great Exhibition of Mining Products.

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.), October 21st.—The Committee on Mines and Mining of the World's Columbian Commission organized and the first meeting will be held in Chicago on November 27th. It is proposed to have a building erected for the display of the products of the mines of this world.

John W. Woodside, of Philadelphia, a member of the committee, representing the Middle, Atlantic and New England States, has issued a circular requesting all owners of mines or quarries and manufacturers of mining machinery who desire space for the proposed exhibits should communicate with him at 924 Arch street, Philadelphia, prior to November 15th.

Nevada Grapes.

Four barrels of wine were produced this season from grapes raised on the Raffetto ranch near Carson City, and the vines were only three years old, says the Virginia Chronicle. J. M. Sallier, on his little garden patch just above Dayton on Carson river, planted a few grapevines by way of experiment a few years ago, and they did well, although it was not considered a favorable grape locality. He made a barrel of wine three years later, and has been selling grapes and wine ever since. Grapes do well about Reno and even in Gold Hill can be seen a few experimental vines which show some fine bunches of grapes. Fruit raisers in favored localities should try a vineyard. It might prove much more profitable than an apple orchard.

A Day of Collisions.

Wednesday there were no less than three serious railway collisions in different parts of the United States. One at Birmingham, Ala., involving the loss of five lives and the wounding of sixteen; another at Cincinnati, Ohio, where five men were killed and an unknown number wounded; and the third at Kansas City, where one person was killed and nine more or less severely injured.

Candidates' Ball.

Last evening at Dauchy's Hall, Glendale, was held the candidates' ball of the campaign, a general invitation having been extended to the public, and particularly to the candidates of all persuasions to be in attendance. Quite a number went from Reno, and all claim to have had a very pleasant time.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

"Six Days Shall Thou Labor, and on the Seventh Rest," Saith the Lord.

EDITOR JOURNAL: The notice published in the JOURNAL, issue of October 17th, whereby the prominent wholesale and retail grocery and hardware merchants of Reno agree for a period extending up to the first Sunday in May, 1891, to keep their places of business entirely and strictly closed on Sundays, is a boon to the hard-working clerks and overworked proprietors, and well-deserved by both. This thoroughly American movement had its inception here at Reno, in the year 1880, when the principal merchants entered into a covenant limiting the time of keeping open on Sunday, which the majority of them have endeavored sincerely to keep up, and, as a result, they have received the sympathy of the community, and, instead of losing thereby, are to-day doing the principal business. Then as now the closing movement was hampered by a few dealers who, for the sake of a few shakels that they might acquire by remaining open, kept their clerks at work in defiance of the generally expressed public opinion.

Since then conditions have changed. The Clerks' Association of Virginia City has been organized, and fought its battle to a successful issue. Only a week ago the Dry Goods Clerks' Association of San Francisco was fighting the obstinacy of two dealers, who, against the acquiescence of all the other local establishments in that line, persisted in antagonizing the six o'clock daily closing movement. The sense of justice, always inherent in every American community, finally brought them to time, for the justice loving people who constitute the great majority of the Bay City rigidly avoided patronizing the places of business of the recalcitrant objectors, acting a leaf, by way of example, out of recent Irish history, till finally they were only too glad to join with their brethren, and, as a result, the movement has won a triumphant success.

Of the ethics of Sunday closing little might be said in argument. There is not a merchant of any note in Reno who does not uphold it, as well as for his own health and recreation as for that of his seven-day week of employees, working hard from 6 A. M. till nearly 9 P. M., almost fifteen hours of work of the most multifarious and at times hardest description, requiring also a degree of activity, alertness and intelligence that is a constant drain on both body and brain, for which even a Sunday holiday is but poor recompense. If there be a merchant who, in the presence of this movement, chooses to deny himself and his employees the opportunity to have one day in the week for rest or recreation, a day that he may call his own, he is not only fighting against his own interests, but his motive must be avarice, selfish and avicious. Ask any truthful business man or clerk whether he does not on a Saturday night after a week's hard work, feel the need of a Sunday's complete rest, after which, if he enjoys the privilege, he will return to his duty on Monday morning refreshed and better equipped in every way for the labors of the ensuing week. The employers have all been there themselves, which accounts for the perfect unanimity of feeling they bear towards their employees. Having risen from the ranks to be successful business men, they fully appreciate the practical economy as well as physical and mental necessity of one day's rest in seven—for from personal experience they know their clerks will perform better and more satisfactory duty, and they themselves will have a keener eye to business.

People can easily and conveniently purchase all they require before closing time, on Saturday nights. In fact, it is only a small few of the community that dilatorily wait to purchase general merchandise on Sunday, and they could readily accommodate themselves to the change in the general interest. The butchers, who deal in a quickly perishable commodity, keep closed on Sundays throughout the State.

Throughout the broad expanse of the Union the limitation of working hours in the shape of the eight-hour a day labor law, incorporated in many political platforms, has spread like an epidemic. The United States, through Congress, has incorporated the eight-hour law of a day's work in the statute books, and it governs the hours of labor in the majority of the departments of service. How much more moderate is the proposition to allow the whole of Sunday, a day devoted to rest by the overwhelming majority of the Christian and civilized world, to proprietors and employees who devote fifteen hours daily, at least, to a physically and mentally laborious pursuit?

The success of a movement like this depends on a total closing, or else all merchandise stores will remain open. The obduracy of one or two will paralyze the good will and intentions of 98 others, for trade is notoriously jealous. It is hoped nothing of the kind will happen here to mar the success of the Sunday closing agreement, for it is bound to attain ultimate success though obstacles may arise to defer it. The clothing, men's furnishing and boot and shoe merchants are all harmonious with the movement and willing to join hand with the icecreamers. Business patronage, which is so fastly in accord with the Sunday closing movement, will surely beguile into line any persistent objectors engaged in tactics, by the gentle persuasion of public opinion, when they see patrons avoiding their stores, because of their persistency in a wrong cause, they may, like Saul of old, suddenly see a vision of light, bearing the glint of silver dollars, but unfortunately vanishing in a wrong direction—away from their pockets.

A RENO MERCHANT.

SENATORIAL RECEPTION.

Senator Jones Receives a Genuine Comstock Welcome Home Ovation.

Of the reception to Senator Jones at Virginia Monday night, the Virginia Chronicle of Tuesday says:

The escort committee accompanied by numerous citizens, all occupying about 100 carriages, went down to Senator Jones' residence in Lower Gold Hill about 7 o'clock last evening. They were royally entertained and champagne popped.

When they came back over the Divide, escorting the Nevada Senator, many houses all along the route were illuminated, flags displayed and the whistles of the various mining works from the Overman to the Ophir progressively turned loose, the last blast indicating arrival at the Opera House, which was already crowded. The stage was occupied to its utmost capacity with the reception committee, and the audience included both political parties as well as many ladies, all eager to see and hear the highly famed and appreciated Senator. Flags decorated the stage and walls, conspicuous among which was the flag, large American flag of the Society of Pacific Coast Pioneers in this city. Car's tall band did up the music in first-class style, and when the Senator came in the building fairly trembled with an earthquake of applause welcome.

THE SPEAKING.

Hon. W. E. F. Deal called the meeting to order, and opened the reception with well chosen and appropriate remarks. Being a standard Democrat he was not exactly in accordance with the political views of our Senator, but he heartily endorsed his Senatorial career so far as the interests of this State are concerned, although politically he might oppose him tomorrow. Mr. Deal then introduced Hon. D. B. Lyman as Chairman, who came forward and presided, introducing Hon. James A. Stephens, who was to make the reception speech.

Mr. Stephens made a very excellent address, recounting the achievements of Senator Jones in our behalf at Washington, and what he still strives to achieve in the interests of his State and the Pacific Coast. His eloquent remarks were somewhat shortened by impatient calls for Jones.

When Mr. Stephens closed his welcoming remarks Senator Jones came forward amid a storm of applause. Feelingly and eloquently he expressed his appreciation of the unexpected, spontaneous ovation at the hands of his fellow citizens of the Comstock, and his address was mainly a review of his career in the United States Senate regarding the silver and other interests of the State of Nevada and the Pacific coast, as well as the Nation generally, giving good allusion to the efforts of his colleagues, Senator Stewart and Congressman Bartine, in the same line. He was frequently applauded throughout, and at the close, in response to a few remarks from Mr. Deal, the entire audience arose and gave three hearty cheers for Senator Jones, of Nevada.

A SIDE ENTERTAINMENT.

The meeting adjourned with an invitation from Mr. Hamilton to a reception at the International in the B street parlors. It should have been in National Guard Hall, or some place where there was more room. A turbulent mob surged in and out. Two or three tables dispensed champagne, with an eager crowd of hoodlums in the front ranks drinking it. Cigars and other refreshments were liberally dispensed and there was music in the air.

Senator Jones rode home to Gold Hill most certainly in a happy frame of mind, for no man ever received such a marked popular appreciative ovation before in the State of Nevada.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-awt-y

MISCELLANEOUS.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines.

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's.

Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.
